A $54.7 Billion Industry

by Canadian Trucking Alliance – Communications Department

NATIONAL TRUCKING WEEK
September 17 - 23, 2006

When we say
"Canada moves by truck," it's not just a figure of speech.
IT'S A FACT.

"If you got it,
a truck brought it"

Ever wonder about how that new book or appliance you ordered over the Internet got to your door? Or how groceries get to the supermarket? Or gasoline to the local gas station? Whether it's deliveries like these, or moving just-in-time parts and supplies to assembly lines and factories across the country, trucks keep Canada moving.

Easy access to goods and products is one of the most important factors contributing to Canada's enviable quality of life. It is also one of the things in our society taken most for granted. Getting goods to market efficiently, safely and reliably is essential to every community - for the resource-based communities of the West and East Coasts of Canada; the agricultural communities of the Prairies; the manufacturing base of Central Canada. Because only trucks can provide the timely, efficient and safe door-to-door service required by today's businesses and consumers, they are the preferred mode of industrial transport.

As the old saying goes, "If you got it, a truck brought it".

Trucking in Canada is a $54.7 billion industry that employs over 260,000 drivers and somewhere in the order of 400,000 Canadians overall. It's a diverse industry made up of a few large companies but dominated by thousands of small and medium-sized businesses and independent owner-operators.

Trucks move 90 percent of all consumer products and foodstuffs within Canada and almost two thirds, by value, of our trade with the United States, our largest trading partner.

Trucks move 90 percent of all consumer products and foodstuffs within Canada

Without trucking, the wheels of commerce would stop rolling and Canadians would be unable to enjoy many of their favorite consumer products.
